

#THELIST: ALL THE THINGS A FASHION GIRL SHOULD REGISTER FOR

Kitchen, dining and decor musts that are anything but basic.

Courtesy of Sasha Bikoff Interior Design

Plans to move into a new home, or spruce up an already shared space, may have you focused on the staples you're supposedly going to need for your newlywed life. And while we won't deprive you of the appliances and upgraded essentials you've been eyeing, there is no need to sacrifice trend-setting style in the process. Choose a registry platform that allows you to garner options from any and everywhere, like Zola, or organize your favorite things online for your guests to view and purchase on their own so that you don't ever feel limited by the stock of only a small selection of shops. In short, get what you want—and choose things that you're going to love for years to come. Treat your registry like you would your closet, and opt for things you want just as much (if not more) than you need. Here, all the things that should be on a fashion girl's wedding wish list.

4 Fashion Prints

Were you obsessed with a fur from J.Mendel, an Hermes heirloom scarf or a bold print from the likes of Dolce & Gabbana, Missoni or Chanel? Take your favorite prints from the runway into your home with reupholstery, and clad anything from antiques to rattan chairs with fashion fabrics to suit your space. Interior Designer Sasha Bikoff may just be the queen of repurposed fashion prints, and you can find anything from Hermes scarf pillows to Carolina Herrera striped chaises on her e-shop.

Sasha Bikoff Interior Design Hollywood Regency settee in Carolina Herrera silk, $10,500, Vanity stool in vintage Hermes daffodil silk, $2,250, and Hermes scarf pillow, $1,250, sashabikoff.com.